SKINS Knockout Finals

The Finals of the 50m events at will be a series of "sudden-death" swims.

Instead of a single Final, a number of races will be held at set time intervals.

After each race the slowest swimmer is eliminated.

The last race in the SKINS Finals series becomes a head to head between the survivors.

The time interval between starts in a race will be 3 minutes and the male and female Finals will race alternately, which means that a race will be started every 1.5 minutes.
