Tighinn Còmhla 2021

Due to the very small number of clubs that have been training and recording times, there has been a break from Tighinn Còmhla since the January Series. The leaderboards from that series have been uploaded to scotswimrankings.scot

Tighinn Còmhla 2021 will now run continuously in monthly rounds until 28 July, with times collected and leaderboards generated monthly, with the first round collecting any times swum between February and May.

Clubs are encouraged to resume in-house and virtual competition according to their stage of return, and to continue to provide this kind of competition throughout the remainder of the season. Additional forms of competition can be introduced when Scottish Government and Public Health Scotland allow, following Scottish Swimming Back to the Water – Competition Management Guidance. See Scottish Swimming Competition Management Guidance

How can Clubs participate?

All Scottish Clubs can take part by entering times for their swimmers according to the schedule below. Any swimmer that can swim 50 metres can get involved provided they are registered as a member of Scottish Swimming in the swimmer category at the time of swimming. Tighinn Còmhla is completely inclusive of all ages and abilities.

There is no fee for entries.

Conditions of swimming for the duration of the May round, and until further notice, will remain minimal subject only to the rules and conditions in this document.

Stopwatch times from training, as well as times from internal club timing sessions, virtual meets*, virtual league matches, or other competition as permitted can all be posted.

Races can be swum by individuals, by two or more swimmers as a part of a training set, or in heats that are swum mixed, or separated by sex and/or by age.

Conditions for June and July may change as restrictions are eased.

What are the Events?

In recognition of the different states of readiness to race around the country, all events are now included. Clubs may choose which events to offer at each of their timing sessions or choose to completely ignore some events until the time is right for them.

Rules and conditions for Tighinn Còmhla 2021

(may be subject to change for June and July)

1. Races are expected to be a racing activity that takes place within club training sessions, involving only those swimmers who normally train within that session. This racing is subject to compliance with Scottish Swimming “Back to the Water – Club Training Guidance” with any risk assessment in place adapted to include racing (support is available in the form of “Racing Considerations”).
2. Limited competition outside of training sessions may be possible under strict conditions and will be subject to “Back to the Water – Swimming Competition Management Guidance”.
3. It is essential that swimmers possess the physical fitness to complete the race distance in a safe manner.
4. A Scottish Swimming Licence is not required for times/sessions/races for Tighinn Còmhla 2021.
5. Swimmer times should be entered under their primary/1st Claim Club only.
6. Ages shall be determined as at midnight on 31st December 2021. Age Groups are as detailed in Leaderboard section.
7. Races will be started, and times recorded by club coaching staff or other personnel from the club, who are members of Scottish Swimming when guidance allows. Whilst there is no requirement for any swimming technical officials to be present in order to race and submit times for Tighinn Còmhla 2021 at this time, with the agreement of club coaching staff, the introduction of a small number of swimming technical officials is encouraged in order to support the management of the racing.
8. Clubs are encouraged to discuss the use of equipment, such as starting whistle, diving blocks etc, with their facility, to ensure safe and appropriate use. Backstroke Starting Devices may be used only as and when permitted under conditions of “Back to the Water – Swimming Competition Management Guidance”.
9. Disqualifications for infractions of the technical rules should only be made if the infraction committed provides the swimmer with an unfair advantage. In this event, a reswim may be offered at the discretion of the club coaching staff. If a swimmer is slowed by their infraction, the time can be entered, with advice given by a coach to help the swimmer improve.
10. Before submission of a “result” as an entry time for the Tighinn Còmhla 2021, a check should be made that a time recorded does not significantly differ from the likely performance of the swimmer.
11. Events are expected to take place in short course (25m) format. Where this is not practical, it will still be possible to take part and post times in most events. Speak to your District Administrator to find out what to do.
12. Racing may take place over any number of training sessions or competitions.

13. The results submitted for Tighinn Còmhla 2021 will be placed on Swim England Rankings as Level X Times, subject to the submitted file being accurate. If the file contains inaccuracies, these files will not be accepted.

District Administrators will check the swimmer data before it is sent for inclusion in the National Leaderboards. Any errors which will cause issues for Rankings will be notified to Clubs and will need to be rectified before 12 noon on the Saturday following the closing date of each round.
